

PROMPT ACTION ON PARKING PROBLEM

New Regulations Remove One Bus Line to Windsor.

ANGLE PARKING AGAIN

Full co-operation and immediate action by Council were given to the plans formulated last week by a group of Narberth merchants in an effort to solve the vexatious parking problem.

Last Thursday night twenty-three business men met and went over the traffic situation, past, present and future. The realization that Council alone could not solve the difficulties and that those on the scene must help prompted the meeting.

A complete new system was worked out, and presented the next night to the committees of the Borough deliberative body. Monday night Messrs. Chris Koch and Ralph S. Dunne appeared at the regular meeting to discuss the plans further.

The new scheme which involved a re-routing of the busses and the removal of angle parking was taken up with Manager Frank A. Dugan, of the Montgomery Bus Company, who offered full co-operation, and Council's Police Committee was given full power to act. So prompt was that action that the revised rules were put in effect yesterday.

The regulations are the same as those discussed in these columns this week, with the exception of the bus route. The original plan called for a change in the run of the east-bound line to Windsor avenue. Instead the eastbound line will now run from Essex avenue on Haverford as usual, making a stop at the station and another in front of Koch's drug store. The west-bound cars will turn off Haverford avenue at Narberth, stopping

OPERA SOPRANO WILL BE SOLOIST

Marie Ladue Piersol Will Appear With Orchestra at First Concert.

SEASON OPENS SUNDAY

The soloist for the first concert by the Main Line Orchestra on Sunday afternoon, at the Ardmore Theatre, Ardmore, will be Marie Ladue Piersol, of Narberth, widely known soprano, who has sung in Grand Opera in Europe as well as appearing with unusual success on the concert stage in America, as soloist with prominent orchestras and in numerous recitals.

Mrs. Piersol, socially prominent in Detroit and closely related to the Newbury family, surprised society by appearing as prima donna under B. C. Whitney in one of his light operas. Her success was immediate and after her first season, the Schuberts, of New York, engaged her for their forces.

Mr. Gatti-Casazza, Director of the Metropolitan Opera, heard the young soprano sing and advised her to give up the light opera stage and devote herself to Grand Opera. On this advice Mrs. Piersol cancelled her contract and sailed for Europe.

Under the tutelage of Mme. Schoen-Rene, one of the few surviving pupils of that master, Manuel Garcia, Mrs. Piersol quickly rounded out her studies in Berlin, and an engagement at Bremen followed.

There is an unwritten rule in German opera houses that there shall be no applause during the performance except at the end of each act, when the entire ensemble share the honors, but when the young singer finished her first aria, the audience swept all restraint aside and burst into a storm of applause. From that moment the American soprano was made, and the opera director was congratulated upon his find.

Mrs. Piersol, in America, when the world war burst across Eu-

PROMINENT MEN AT LEGION BANQUET

Annual Dinner Includes a Short Armistice Day Service.

JACK KELLY IS SPEAKER

An evening of splendid good fellowship, with a good meal and noted speakers, made the Annual Armistice Day banquet of the local Legion Post a memorable occasion.

Seventy-five men of the borough, members of the Harold D. Speakman Post, with their friends, assembled Thursday night at the post home in the Community building. For a half-hour before the meal began there was brisk talk, greetings of old friends and introductions to new ones.

Shortly after seven Fred. C. Patten sounded the welcome mess call on silver trumpet, and chairs were quickly taken. The post chaplain, Rev. Robert E. Keighton, asked the invocation before the gathering was turned over to past commander Harry A. Simpson for a brief memorial service.

Mourn Dr. Faries.

This year the period of silence for those who had passed took on the sense of personal loss, when those present bent their heads in mourning for their comrade and friend, Dr. Clarence T. Faries, who died last month. Taps were sounded by Mr. Patten.

Toastmaster Commander Allen E. Shubert commanded the services of past commander Henry G. Sparks as song leader, and many ditties, ancient and modern, were sung to the music of four members of Bill Clear's Cynwyd orchestra. An original post song, "Roll Jordan Roll," author not stated, was sung after brief coaching by the leader. But after all, a banquet exists because of its speeches, and Thursday's affair was marked by the presence of eminent visitors, each of whom spoke entertainingly, and by the words of Narberth's own members, who spoke briefly and pleasingly.

Commander Shubert made a brief plea for continued growth of comradeship so as to knit together the post and make its presence of real worth to the community. He introduced as honored guests and honorary members, Rev. Shindle and F. W. B. Humes, veterans of the Civil War.

G. A. R. Men Speak.

Rev. Shindle opened the book of memory, and from its pages selected a group of witty anecdotes. Both he and Mr. Humes expressed their gratitude for the courtesies of the veterans of the more recent conflict.

A newcomer to Narberth, one who has taken the place created by the death of a pastor, beloved of the post members, was introduced. In short and pleasing talk Father Robert F. Hayes, new rector of St. Margaret's, expressed his desire to take his place in the affairs of the community.

And then were introduced the speakers of the evening, who had been brought to Narberth by a hard-working committee to interest the group with their personalities and talks.

Fred. Ford, cement salesmen and sporting authority, launched into comment on Philadelphia's eminent place in sports of all kinds—baseball, football, rowing, boxing, tennis, track, dogs—all the way to prize golfish. Particularly did he praise Jack Kelly, eminent member of an eminent group of brothers, for eight years world leader of the single sculls, modest winner, game loser, legionnaire, gentleman.

A tall bronzed young man beside him listened, a bit embarrassed, and

BORO RED CROSS WORKERS NAMED

Tenth Annual Roll Call for Members Began Armistice Day.

DRIVE ENDS NOV. 25

Armistice Day saw the opening of the Red Cross tenth annual roll call, which will continue until November 25. In a statement issued by the local committee in charge of raising funds for the work of the organization, a list is given of workers who will call on all homes in the borough in the week and a half that remains before Thanksgiving, when the drive officially ends. The statement follows:

"Why should I take my Red Cross membership from a hometown worker?"

"Narberth is in the Main Line branch of the Red Cross. From each membership 50 cents goes to Washington, D. C. for National Red Cross work. The remainder is used for local needs.

"Give your money where Narberth and the Main Line towns will benefit. The largest single expense at present is the service rendered ex-service men and which no other agency is equipped to render."

The committee consists of the following workers:

On the south side of Narberth: Elmwood avenue—Mrs. William J. Bartlett, Woodside avenue—Mrs. Arthur C. Staples and Mrs. L. B. Edgerton.

MEETING SCHEDULED

Shingle Ordinance to Be Discussed This Month.

The Ordinance and Law Committee of Borough Council decided at the Council meeting last Monday evening to hold a public hearing on the proposed anti-shingle ordinance, in Elm Hall on Monday, November 29, at 8 P. M.

This is the ordinance which has been discussed in the past two issues of Our Town. If it should be passed by Council, it would greatly restrict the use of shingles for roofing in the borough immediately and would bring about the total abolition of shingle roofs within 20 years. The passage of this ordinance would enable all property in the borough to obtain a lower rating for fire insurance purposes. As this ordinance as now proposed would affect the property interests of a very large number of citizens and tax payers, it is the desire of Council that there should be a full and free expression of opinion concerning it in advance of any formal discussion of the ordinance in Council. Every property owner who has a shingle roof should make a note of the date of the hearing now and plan to be there or to be represented.

Another letter on the subject was received this week from William D. Smedley, prominent Narberth builder:

To the Editor:

In reference to the proposed ordinance to eliminate the use of shingles for all roofs in the borough:

I believe a similar ordinance has been proposed twice before and has failed to pass. Let us hope this time it will meet with the same fate.

In my opinion throughout the residential section of the borough, or rather other than the business section or fire zones, one should be permitted to use the roofing material best adapted to the architecture of the building and his own personal liking.

Surely a shingle roof is best adapted to certain types of dwellings, and is no more a fire menace than many types of composition roofing. Further, about 95 per cent. of all fires originate from within the buildings.

If this ordinance is passed the most likely result will be the majority of homes built will be roofed with a variety of imitations of tile and slate, with little regard to architecture, and as much a fire hazard as a good shingle roof.

Would it not be better not to pass an anti-shingle ordinance, and keep our building code as near as possible to the code of Lower Merion township which surrounds our little borough? So a passerby will not say "these artistic homes on this side of the road are in Lower Merion township, on the other side where those speckled roofs are, in the borough of Narberth."

Let him who wants a shingle roof be permitted to have one.

WILLIAM D. SMEDLEY.

BOROUGH FINANCES IN BETTER SHAPE

Council Foreclosing on Liens to Release Needed Funds.

O. K. PARKING PLAN

Routine business, but business of importance, kept the members of Borough Council until late Monday night. A pleasing improvement in Narberth's current finances was shown in the report of Borough Treasurer E. P. Dold.

The problem of parking was first among the new business. Former Burgess Carl B. Metzger spoke on the plan evolved the previous Thursday night by 23 Narberth business men. The plan had been accepted by the governmental committees Friday and was then brought up in regular meeting.

In reviewing what he had said before the merchants Mr. Metzger called attention to the fact that the rules established several weeks ago had resulted in severe losses of business to local stores. With less space provided, purchasers had passed on to other business sections. The plan, explained in another column of this issue, was brought up for approval.

Speak for Plan.

Chris Koch and Ralph S. Dunne, representing the merchants, also spoke briefly in behalf of the proposed regulations. The matter was turned over to the police committee with power to act. The promptness of that action is also discussed elsewhere.

Street lighting, including a criticism of the "pale moons" shown by the seven new standards, came up for discussion. It was brought out that the Civic Association hoped shortly to have funds available for the erection of additional standards, and Council was asked to maintain the lights. The possibility that the use of 250-watt bulbs instead of the present 100-watt size in the present standards might take care of the problem was suggested, and Council is preparing for a trial of the brighter bulbs.

Foreclosing Liens.

The Liens Committee reported progress in cleaning up many of the outstanding accounts. Foreclosure was announced against the

250 PARENTS VISITED

Children in Junior High School Monday, Under Mothers' Council.

The first public observance of Education Week in Narberth was held on Monday, November 8, from 7 to 9 P. M. in the Junior High School. Never before has there been such an enthusiastic gathering of Narberth parents as there was on Monday night when 250 met with a realization of the opportunity given them to see the upper grades in a working school session.

Regular class work was carried on in the fifth to the eighth grades that evening as far as possible under the conditions. Now those parents who cannot visit the school in the daytime now have a definite mental picture of what their children are doing.

The Mothers' Council, in behalf of the parents, wish to extend thanks and sincerest appreciation to the children, the teachers and the principal, indeed, to all who had even the smallest part in making the evening so successful.

NARBERTH-ARDMORE NIGHT

Rev. Samuel R. Doud, pastor of the Matthew Simpson Memorial M. E. Church of Ardmore, will be the speaker next Thursday evening at the monthly meeting of the Good Fellowship Club of the M. E. Church.

Rev. Doud will bring a number of men from Ardmore with him so as to make this a joint meeting. This will be an unusual opportunity for those who missed last month's meeting. All men of the community are invited.

The meeting has been advanced one week on account of Thanksgiving, the regularly scheduled date.

NARBERTH CIVIC ASSOCIATION TO HOLD ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Large Attendance Is Urged to Determine Whether Pioneer Organization Is to Continue.

The annual meeting of the Narberth Civic Association will be held next Tuesday night at 8 in Elm Hall. Every resident has been invited to attend, in order to express an opinion and render aid in the affairs of the association.

Founded over 12 years ago, the Civic Association performed many invaluable services to the borough, chief among them being the establishment of Narbrook Park and the founding of "Our Town."

With the growth of the work of other organizations, the active duties of the Association became less and less, and for a number of years it has existed as a name and an influence, but with little actual life. Working through the merchants, the association last year sponsored the purchase of seven new light standards for Haverford avenue.

Next Tuesday's meeting will be of importance to every resident, for a decision may be reached to dissolve. For a number of years, the directors have been faced with a lack of community interest, and a growing feeling that the work of the association has been done—that the body can now cease its work and let other organizations carry on.

This will undoubtedly be done, unless those present can produce from their number enough persons with time to do the new work to be performed, and can choose new officers who are able to devote the necessary attention to carry on the association.

The dissolution plan, if carried through, will include the sale of "Our Town." A committee of the directors has worked on such a plan and meetings were held with the present Editor, in which an agreement was reached whereby he would assume ownership of the paper and carry it on along the lines established by the association.

The action of the committee will come up at this meeting, with a request that the members ratify the agreement prepared. By such a plan Narberth would be assured of the continuance of a civic paper in event of the removal of the Civic Association.

The invitation to attend includes all members who are now paid up or who have formerly been on the rolls, in addition to all residents not connected with the association.

SEEK PARTNERS FOR TENNIS CLUB DANCE

Great Interest Shown in Event Next Wednesday.

The annual dinner dance of the Narberth Tennis Association is to be held this year in the Marion Tribute House, Merion, Pa., on Wednesday evening, November 17.

Interest this year in this annual affair seems to be unusually intense as is evidenced by the advertisement in the classified columns on another page of this paper. Three young bachelors, (we hope they are bachelors) are allowing no opportunity to slip by to secure for themselves a fair companion on this evening.

Who these men are seems to be quite a mystery which it is hoped will be solved before the evening is over. Supposing that all tennis players are gentlemen and as we know that gentlemen prefer blondes the mystery should be easily solved.

As in previous years this dinner will be marked by the presentation of handsome trophy cups to the winners of various club events during the past season and the dinner will be followed by dancing.

Those who desire can make reservations by telephone through the chairman of the Dance Committee, W. J. MacKay, Narberth 1251-J.

TROOP COMMITTEE

Of Scouts to Meet Next Friday.

Notices have been sent this week to the members of the Boy Scout Troop Committee announcing their regular monthly meeting, which will be held in the Cabin next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Fathers' Association annual meeting will be held on December 1, at which time the election of officers for the year 1927 will take place.

The meeting of the troop committee will be one of extreme importance to the local organization of Boy Scouts. New leaders for each of the two troops will soon have to be chosen and as this is a matter that vitally affects the success of the movement the parents—particularly the fathers—of the members are urgently requested to attend. Their assistance will help solve the problems now confronting the leaders of their boys.

Troop Committee meets November 19; the Fathers' Association meets December 1. Both meetings will be held in the Cabin, corner of Essex and Elmwood avenues.

WOMEN'S CLUB WILL GIVE DINNER-DANCE

In Elm Hall Friday—Other Events Scheduled.

The Community Club will hold its regular meeting in Elm Hall Tuesday, November 16, at 2.30 P. M. Reports from the biennial and State conventions will be presented. To some the very word "report" exerts an immediate repulsion. This should not be. It is through the State and national Federations, those organizations of thousands of women wherein lie great potentialities, that the great significance of the Woman's Club movement appears. Only a few can attend those conventions and only through their reports can the greater number of club women realize the meaning of the federations. Come and learn.

The climax of the club's activities for this month will be the dinner-dance, sponsored by the Board of Directors for the building fund. Sponsored is a fine, dignified word. The plain truth is that the directors are using skilled hands in cooking the dinner and agile minds in planning the cabaret numbers.

Do your part in making it a success by reserving your places (single tickets, $1.25; tables for four, $5) through Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, Narberth 2813, by Tuesday, November 16. Then be at Elm Hall at 6.30 on Friday, November 19, ready to dine, laugh and dance. Or if you prefer shuffling cards to shuffling your feet, you will find opportunity.

Wednesday, November 17, is the day of the card party for the building fund at the home of Mrs. John A. Caldwell, 122 Elmwood avenue. This spells pleasure for the player and profit for the fund.

A trip to the academy to see the Watercolor Exhibition is planned for Friday, November 19. The party will take the 9.29 train from Narberth. Mrs. Batchelor is bringing a friend whose studies of work in this medium should be helpful.

The Hospitality Committee is giving a home bake Saturday, November 20 at Cotter's Store. Come early, before the best is gone.

This same energetic group is planning a rummage sale for some time in the near future. If those having contributions will call Mrs. A. Y. Reinking, she will have the material collected.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Corbett, of Atlantic City, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Vallette, 314 Chestnut avenue, left this week for Miami, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

GETTING TOGETHER

Last week "Our Town" published a report of a merchants' meeting in which a new traffic plan was prepared for the approval of Council. This week our news story states the plan is in effect.

There is something in the promptness of action, and the complete spirit of co-operation shown that merits the admiring attention of every Narberth citizen.

Delay, misunderstanding, ill feeling are too often the salient features of any such knotty problem. Council must go ahead according to its best information, and then await the storm of criticism which follows its action.

The action taken during the past week tells a different story. Here the merchants realized that if conditions were to be established to their best interests it was up to them to come before their representatives with concrete, practical ideas.

A well-attended meeting last Thursday formulated the new rules. Council committees discussed them the following night, the regular meeting authorized the changes Monday, and within three days thereafter the scheme became a reality.

Whether or not the new rules will be a success remains to be seen. Certainly, with this spirit of mutual help prevailing a successful plan is soon forthcoming.

14 ARE FINED FOR BLOCKING FIREMEN

Action Part of Drive to Break
Up Dangerous Parking
Nuisance.

25 WERE VOLUNTEERS

As a result of the vigorous campaign against motorists who race to fires and who park their machines so as to interfere with the work of firemen, the Lower Merion township treasury is this week richer by $149. This represents the $13.50 fine and costs which 14 motorists who "attended" the Miramar Canoe Club fire in West Manayunk last week were forced to pay when given a hearing Friday before Magistrate Kromer in the Ardmore police station.

The contributions are not yet ended for several of the motorists to whom summonses were issued failed to appear at the hearing last week. Warrants for the arrest of these have been issued and they will be given a special hearing tonight in the Ardmore police station. These tardy ones are open to fines ranging from $13.50 to $60 depending upon the discretion of the squire.

The situation at the West Manayunk fire last week was described by the police as intolerable. So many automobiles cluttered up the roads in the vicinity of the blaze that two of the five township and Narberth fire companies which responded to the alarm were prevented from going into action. Another company, Cynwyd, had to waste many minutes waiting until some of the machines were moved before it could get near the fire.

Police who are determined to break up this dangerous nuisance got busy and took license numbers with the result that 42 summonses were issued. When the hearing was held Friday, 25 of these proved to the satisfaction of Squire Kromer that they were either members of the fire companies called to the blaze or else friends who were taking volunteers to the scene of action. They were dismissed.

Members From Ardmore to Paoli.

The final details of forming the Main Line Kiwanis Club will be worked out in the course of an organization dinner, which is being held at the Casa del Rey, in Haverford, at 7 o'clock this evening.

Jacob C. Fisher, of Norristown, the lieutenant governor of the Pennsylvania district of Kiwanis International, and Joseph L. Bowles, field representative, will be present, in addition to representatives from the clubs of Willow Grove, Norristown, Lansdale and Phoenixville. It is planned to start the Main Line club with 50 members, two from each class of business. The territory covered by the Main Line club will be from Ardmore to Paoli, the present list of members including business men from virtually all the towns from Ardmore to Wayne.

A temporary board of directors consisting of Richard J. Hamilton, P. A. Hart, Frank H. Mahan, Allan C. Hale, Monroe H. Anders, Richard H. Fogarty, Jr., and Joseph Cairns, Jr., has been appointed for organization purposes.

opposite Crane's drug store, proceeding to Winsor, and thence to Essex avenue.

As a result, one-way bus traffic will be established on Haverford avenue, removing one of the biggest sources of congestion. Angle parking will be restored on the north side of Haverford avenue for one hour only, and parallel parking to load and unload, on the south side of the street.

A distinct falling off in business was noted throughout the entire business section due to the recently established restrictive rules. The lack of space drove many purchasers to other towns or to Philadelphia. The new rules, it is felt, will allow ample facilities for temporary parking and a quick movement of traffic.

The use of Narberth and Haverford avenues as a stopping place for busses running in both directions will obviate inconvenience to passengers, in addition to taking many of the heavy cars away from the congested business section. A plan for universal one-way traffic on Haverford avenue has been abandoned for the present.

IF COMPANY OR WINTER COMES

If the housewife becomes careless, and permits her supply of sugar, bread or butter to run out, there is a mad scramble if company comes. As the visitors ring the doorbell, Willie scurries out the back way to borrow from the neighbors.

How about that coal bin? If icy blasts should make a sudden attack upon your small supply of coal, you would phone Narberth 375 in a hurry, for it is not so easy to run next door with a coal scuttle.

But then you would have to wait your turn with dozens of other depleted households. Why not get that order in at once? The merry rattle of coal from one of our sturdy trucks is the best kind of a bass accompaniment to the tenor whistle of icy winds.

Little Chats About Your Health. No. 3.

Waste Not—Want Not.

There's a trite saying to the effect that you can't eat your cake and still have it.

It is the same way with your health. You can't abuse it continuously and expect some hidden reservoir of strength to keep it going indefinitely.

"Waste not, want not" applies as much to health and strength as any other thing you can name.

Just how we shall live is for each of us to decide—but when medical assistance is needed there's only one logical course to pursue.

Call your doctor without delay and follow his instructions carefully.

Bring us your prescriptions. We are prescription specialists.

Simply as a part of the scenery, it is pleasant to view the building at the west end of Haverford Avenue. A brick colonial structure, dignified, friendly, strong, attractive.

Appearance, of course, is but a part of an institution's duty to the community it serves. Back of the white-painted doorway there must be a friendly welcome, and the capacity to serve.

These, we think, you will find here. The strength of the National Banking System is at your command, and the courtesy which comes only through genuine neighborly contact.

TURKEY TALK

When you select your turkey, one of the chief considerations is the amount and quality of the flesh of the body, especially on the breast, back and hips. Plenty of flesh meat means plenty of meat for carving, and there should be also a generous amount of fat to insure a moist, tender turkey. The French always expose a turkey in the market with the back up so the housewife can better observe how plump the bird is.

Feeling the end of the breast or keel bone and examining the spurs or the feet may give some idea of the age of a turkey, but these tests are not infallible so far as picking out a good tender turkey is concerned. Almost any turkey can be cooked so that it is tender, but it is, of course, easier to roast a young bird. The best method of cooking a turkey is that by which the flesh is kept moist and juicy. Cooking it in a covered roaster with a little water in the bottom in a carefully regulated oven will prevent it from drying out. The time for cooking varies, according to the age of the turkey and its size.

The custom of having a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner dates back to the early New England settlers, who found turkeys wild and highly recommended by the Indians. Domestic turkeys are at their prime in the fall and their size makes them suitable for serving to a good many people.

400 feet high supporting 2400 separate wires!*

It's A SMALL CITY that would not have such a pole line—or several of them—had the telephone cable not been perfected.

But the telephone scientist has taken all those wires, completely insulated each, grouped them together, and covered them with a protective lead sheath.

Then either buried them underground, or placed them on short, sturdy poles.

And made them "talk," without interference—which only open wires could previously do.

Huge cables now reach the length of the state, and beyond. They are constantly being extended. And this extension presents new and continuously more complex transmission problems.

But new discoveries, new inventions, new equipment are keeping pace—are making possible a storm-proof, trouble-free service, continuously more extensive and efficient.

ROTARIANS HEAR

Guy Croyle, Merion Contractor—
Father—Son Dinner Tuesday.

Guy Croyle, Merion contractor, gave a brief sketch of his life and business at the Tuesday luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. His talk was in line with the policy of the club to acquaint members more intimately with each other.

Mr. Croyle told how he had been born on the farm and worked as a farmer's assistant until he was 20 years old, at which age he entered the old Central Manual Training High School. Graduating there he took a job as lumberman, leaving this later to enter the engineering school at the University of Pennsylvania.

"I felt then that I was getting too old to study," he said. "I left and went into road contracting business. I have been in that for some years now, and I am still hoping to go back to college."

President Alvin E. Shull presided. During the business part of the meeting which was held at the Cynwyd Club as usual, he heard a committee report on arrangements for the father and son dinner, which the club will give Tuesday evening.

Sliced ham, baked in milk with sliced potatoes on top, is an excellent dinner dish.

MANY NARBERTH MEN ENJOY LEGION BANQUET

a moment later was introduced as Jack Kelly himself, brother of Walter Kelly, the "Virginia Judge," brother also of George Kelly, author of the "Show-off" and Craig's Wife." Jack, the youngest of ten brothers, and himself a world figure and a delightful speaker.

Taking the cue of the other speakers, anecdotes in side-splitting quantities followed one another rapidly. The serious part of his talk included an earnest appeal to the Narberth post to help the younger generation by the fostering of clean sport.

"Sport," he said, "prepares a man for every kind of experience which may come to him in later life. The true sports man learns to win modestly and lose gracefully; to meet problems gamely sport training necessitates clean living, and supplies an absorbing activity to drive bad habits from the mind of young fellows."

Prominent Legionnaire Speaks.

Burgess Harry A. Frye, a member of the post, introduced the next speaker, also a distinguished visitor. Vincent Carroll, national vice-commander of the American Legion, general chairman of the recent convention in Philadelphia, assistant district attorney of Philadelphia.

Mr. Carroll echoed the appeal of Jack Kelly for the fostering of clean sport, and launched into a brief talk on the place of the Legion, and its opportunities in the finer things of community and national life. His speech, more formal than the others, was couched in inspiring terms.

Chief Charles V. Noel, of the Narberth Fire Company was called upon as the leader of a peace-time army, and pledged the interest of himself and his men in the work of the post.

As a fitting conclusion to an enjoyable evening, Robert H. Durbin, father of Bill, legionnaire, was called upon. After a brief talk he gave an expressive reading of James Whitcomb Riley's famous poem, "Good Bye, Jim, Take Care of Yourself"—holding the diners spell-bound to the end, as his readings always do.

To Robert C. Collins, chairman of the committee, and his co-workers, goes the credit for a completely successful supper—one that will, or should be, remembered.

COMMENCES NEW GROUP

Of Sermons on "Genesis and the Modern Man."

In the first of a series of four sermons preached on Sunday evenings in the Baptist Church of the Evangel, the Rev. Robert E. Keighton said, last Sunday night:

"For many years there has been a debate waged over the early chapters of Genesis. Unfortunately, the attention given to it, the energy expended upon it and the emotion aroused by it have been out of all proportion to the importance of it! The proof of the modern position is past history; its vindication is future history—rapidly being made!"

"Of the two accounts of the Creation given in Genesis, no reconciliation can be made that does not betray artificiality and inherent weakness. They were the attempts of two Hebrews, one living 800 B. C., the other 500 B. C."

"The story itself is based upon a tradition common to the Semitic people, notably the Babylonians. The revolt against the polytheistic story of this latter people, which had the creation of man as the result of a drunken frenzy of the gods, produced the Creation Ode of the first chapter of Genesis."

"Its value for us is not cosmological, scientific or historical, but religious. Its magnificence is found in the insistence it makes upon the Creator as one great Spirit who is wholly righteous and just, achieving as the crown of His work the companionship of man."

rope, turned her talents towards the American concert stage. At the music festival at Spartanburg, as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra under Walter Damrosch, and in numerous concerts, existing or to be advocated. There should be provisions in a large way for the physical, moral, mental and social welfare and expression of all who wish this privilege under the most favorable and delightful environment, which is not the case at the present time and can never become so under present conditions.

"The very attractive and suitable place selected for the new building on the corner of Montgomery avenue and Anderson avenue should make a strong appeal for renewed efforts in behalf of this laudable project. Train, trolley and bus service for those who need it is superb for the entire Main Line reaching from City Line to Paoli and covering an area of approximately 100 square miles of territory to be served.

"Many details of the building will be described in a future article which will appeal to and should receive the hearty endorsement of all who are interested in Main Line ideals and standards of efficiency, such as is contemplated by the Main Line Christian Association in the new building for a community program which will be second to none anywhere, and will be distinctive in keeping with the reputation and performance of a characteristic Main Line effort."

BOROUGH FINANCES IN MUCH BETTER SHAPE

holdings of Vincent Mariani and Derrousse et al. at Iona and Woodbine avenues. The liens, amounting to $1459.59 are against a pair of vacant lots at that point, bought in at a sale some time ago by the present owner as an investment.

The foreclosure, it was stated, is the first of a number which will be made against properties with liens which should be removed.

That Narberth's cash box is in better shape than has been the case for some time was shown in the report of the treasurer. At the beginning of the year there was $42,000 outstanding in temporary loans carried to pay the current bills. These notes had meanwhile increased to $58,100. Big tax collections, it was shown, will make it possible to wipe out $29,000 of this amount, setting the lowest floating debt held by the borough for some time.

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee, the largest division of Council, follows:

Report of Highway Committee.

During the past month the work of resurfacing Wynnedale avenue under the Street Improvement bond issue has been entirely completed and the total cost of this amounted to $2822.71. The Street Commissioner estimated in advance that the total cost of this would be $2800, but your chairman asked Council and received authorization to spend not more than $3000. Thirty per cent. of this total is to be paid by the abutting property owners and bills pro-rating that charge in accordance with front footage will be served on those property owners within the next week.

Mr. Marmaduke Bowker, Jr., of 108 Wynnedale avenue, has asked the borough to repair or make reimbursement for damage to the cement of his sidewalk and front porch which he believes was caused by water that leaked from a surface water drain pipe of the borough in the bed of Wynnedale avenue in front of his property. The drain pipe was sealed at the expense of the borough and the cause of the trouble was thereby removed more than a year ago. Members of this committee and the Street Commissioner have visited Mr. Bowker's property personally and are of the opinion that it is not demonstrable that the imperfections in his sidewalk and porch were caused by water underground. It is the opinion of your committee that these defects are no more serious than frequently occur to cement work from apparently natural causes. It is, therefore, the recommendation of your committee that Mr. Bowker should be notified that it is the opinion of Council that the full responsibility of the borough in this matter was discharged when the surface water drain pipe was adequately and permanently sealed.

Your committee is holding a Deed of Dedication conveying from Jennv P. Loos to the borough of Narberth the road bed of Shirley lane so-called. We are informed by the Street Commissioner that although this lane was properly paved in accordance with borough standards, the pavement has since been seriously damaged by openings which have been made for water and other connections and that these openings have been left in such a poor condition that the surface of this street, as it now stands, is impaired. It is the recommendation of your committee that this deed be not accepted until the Street Commissioner can report this street has been put into the proper condition.

The chairman of this committee has received a request from a resident of North Narberth avenue that "Danger—Run Slow" signs be placed at the intersection of Narberth and Price avenues. This resident states that since the traffic control light was placed at the corner of North Narberth and Montgomery avenues, there has been an increasing tendency for people driving north on North Narberth avenue to speed up in an endeavor to reach the corner before the light changes, with the result that there have been several collisions and near accidents at the intersection of Narberth and Price avenues. We recommend that this committee be given authority to investigate this situation and, if necessary, to place such signs at Narberth and Price avenues and also at Narberth and Sabine avenues.

During the past month the Highway Department has placed "Danger—Run Slow" signs at Wynnedale and Sabine avenues.

In addition we collected 754 cubic yards of ashes; cleaned the storm inlets and patched several ditches throughout the borough.

We recommend that this committee be given authority to obtain a positive ruling from the borough solicitor with reference to the propriety and right of the borough to drain surface water into the old 12-inch pipe in the bed of Haverford avenue, and that if such a ruling is favorable, all of the abutting property owners should be warned by this committee that it is the intention of the borough to make such use of that drain pipe within 30 days from the date of the warning, and that those property owners should, in the meantime, take whatever precautions seemed to them to be suitable to prevent surface water from backing up in pipes which may at present be draining from their properties into this 12-inch main.

We also ask for authority to open up the inlet at the corner of Forrest and Haverford avenues, 30 days after such a notice has been sent out.

During the past month we spent $2378.72 for materials used in the resurfacing of Wynnedale avenue, and $21 for materials used in street maintenance work. The expenditure for labor during the past month was as follows: For ash collections $476.14; for street cleaning, $127.75; for street maintenance, $65.84; for rent of roller, $6.84; for Wynnedale avenue, $443.99; for repairing Woodbine avenue curb, $10.44. Total, $1072.
